DETAILED ACTION

- This action is responsive to the following communication: an Amendment filed on 10/26/05.
- Claims 3, 15, 22, 34, 41, 53, 60, and 72 have been canceled.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see pages 28-29, filed on 10/26/05, with respect to claims 1, 20, 39, and 58 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The prior art rejection of claims 1, 20, 39, and 58 has been withdrawn.

Applicant's arguments, see pages 28-29, filed on 10/26/05, with respect to claims 58-59, 61-71, 73-76 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The 35 U.S.C § 101 rejection of claims 58-59, 61-71, 73-76 has been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-2, 4-14, 16-21, 23-33, 35-40, 42-52, 54-59, 61-71, 73-76 are allowed; renumbered as claims 1-68.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The cited prior art (US 6433882 and US 6816270) of record teaches a distributed printing, but the prior art of record fails to teach and/or suggest distributed printing in which there are two types of distributed printing processes a first for a device-independent-format data and a second for a device-dependent-format data. A determination is made as to whether a plurality of printers for distributing printing can process the same printer language data. In a case where the plurality of printers cannot process the same printer language data, then the process for distributed printing using device-independent-format is performed, whereas in a case where the plurality of printers can process the same printer language data, the distributed printing process for device-independent-format is performed. The examiner found neither prior art cited in its entirety, nor based on the prior art, found any motivation to combine any of prior arts that teaches the above limitations and in combinations of other features cited in claims 1, 20, 39, and 58.
